To Seize Cuba May Be the Only Way With Him.

Chicago, March 9.-The Post's Washingion special says:

"If forebodings based on scientific advices as to the sanitary conditions in Cuba are half realized there will be a new and strong reason for American intervention in Cuban affairs which has not yet been broached and that is that peace must be restored in order to protect the people of the United States from danger of epidemics. It is believed by the officials of the marine hospital service and by experienced naval officers who are acquaint ed with the conditions that Cuba will be visited by a devastating epidemic of yel iow fever during the approaching summer. If the disease should assume a form as desperately and as bad as anticipate othing but a miracle could prevent it from communicating to the large American cities along the Atlantic coast and thence into the Interior. A member of the administration said today that the president might find himself obliged to intervena for purely sunitary reasons."
